This is part #5 of the No Cost Affiliate Marketing system. This is just some important final points for you to consider. Focus on your list building on your affiliate site. If you can do this, you aren't going to just get people going to your website and being lost after they get to that affiliate link.

Instead, you can have them on your list and you can reach out to them. It has been researched, and it can take up to 7 times of reaching out before someone makes a purchase. Without having your email marketing where you can get them on the list you are building, you will miss out on lots of potential sales. Use www.listwire.com for building your list.

By building your list, you will have the potential for sustainable online income. It can also reduce the chance of you getting flagged for affiliate marketing on these free sites. You ultimately may be better getting people to sign up on a free form and going to a free opt in page. This would be instead of them going straight to an affiliate link. This way, you are able to build your list up.

Free websites and blog solutions we recommend can shut you down. That is why we do recommend scaling up. The ones we do recommend seem to have lots of traffic and doing well with affiliate marketing. We do feel comfortable recommending them. Just keep in mind that at any point in time, their terms and conditions can change. They can change tomorrow.

That is why once you get this going and understand how it works, you switch to paid solutions. Only once you make some profits. Once you generate revenue you need to get a domain name and hosting. It will cost you about $10 a month for a good hosting plan. Again, wait until the money is generated.

This will help you to ensure your chances of long term survival and success. It also isn't going to cost you upfront. You will learn how the system works and then you can scale it up. You can keep your free websites out there. As long as they don't get shut down – and then you can put your links in there.

To buy your domain name, you can go to:

- www.godaddy.com
- www.lifedomains.net
- www.namecheap.com

For your hosting we recommend that you go to:

- www.hostgator.com
- www.bluehost.com.

These are some additional points that will keep you consistent with your promotional efforts. I can't stress this enough. A lot of people, the biggest mistake they make with affiliate marketing, they don't continue to build up a website. They just sit back and wait for sales to come in and it doesn't happen.

The reality is that you aren't going to get the traffic that you deserve that way. You aren't going to get the people you want coming to your site if you don't go out there and actively put together content. This is articles, videos, press releases and generate that exposure. You can get a trickle of traffic when you build it but that won't be consistent or sustainable.

You need to generate traffic and you need to generate revenue. Once you have some money coming in, you can think about building another one and repeating the process. You can stick with what works and what is generating you revenue. Get out there and have fun! Your own online business is going to be fun. Enjoy what you are doing!
