In this lesson, we are going to go to the second part of getting your Facebook fan page set up. The first part was getting your fan page set up and established. In the second part, we are going to start adding 3 to 5 pieces of quality content. This doesn't have to be content that you created, although that does help if you can link to one of the content pieces. This can be a video you made or a blog post at www.blogger.com.

Go to Google and do a search for top websites in your niche market. For this example, I am going to type in golf blogs. The first one is Top 50 Golf Blogs.

You can also find a topic such as All About Improving your Golf Game. I found content that offers 10 steps and has pictures. So that would be relevant content that fans would like. Again, it doesn't have to be content that you created. It can be very simple information.

You can put a note with it and tell them that you found that information and wanted to share it with them as you think it is valuable information. Click on Post and it will show up in your Facebook fan page.

Do the same thing to get 3 to 5 pieces of information. Try to include at least one article and one video. You can find videos to use at www.youtube.com

Next, you want to go to the blog and select a post from there that you can put on your fan page. Post that link onto your page and select Post. By using a variety of resources, it doesn't look like you are just trying to promote your own content. You should have at least one link to your own content. You can also provide them with information such as recommended resources and those could be affiliate products that you are promoting.

You can plug in your Clickbank affiliate link. When you first set up your Facebook fan page, focus on building up your information more than on making money though. To get your link, go to www.clickbank.com and login to your account.

On the left hand side, find the product you want and click Promote.

Now you have a nice fan page with content. It is time to start promoting it. On your fan page you can actually put in more videos to add more content. You want to like your own page. You can also get people you know to like it. Look for Facebook groups that are related to your niche market.

Like some of those pages that come up. You can also do a blog post about your link. You can invite people to like your Facebook fan page. There are so many things you can do. If you have a contact list, you can upload that file. There are many strategies for building your audience for that Facebook page.

The big thing of course is to make sure you join other similar groups within Facebook. You can join those that seem like they are doing very well and offer good content. You want to join those fan pages that have lots of people that visit them too. These pages give you lots of flexibility and it is just a matter of implementing it. The process of building your traffic through a Facebook fan page is slow at the start.

Once you start to make some money, you can go with the paid advertising. You can get some advertising for $10 or $20 per month. It will really start to help you grow that fan page exponentially and quickly. For now, continue to join groups on Facebook and continue to add content to your fan page so that it grows and you get your community out there.
