In this lesson, I want to talk to you and demonstrate for you what guest blogging is. This is a great way to reach a new audience, build a new network, and build links to your website. Keep in mind that building links to your website is not the main purpose of guest blogging. Search engines have really cracked down on using guest blogs as part of your overall search engine rankings.

The main purpose of guest blogging is to reach your audience. Be where your audience is hanging out. You want to offer blogs, articles, and content that are related to your niche market. One great tool to use is www.myblogguest.com. You can sign up for a free account. This tool gives you access to find guest blogging opportunities.

The screenshot displays the MyBlogGuest website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the MyBlogGuest logo on the left, a sign-in section with fields for 'User name' and password, a 'Remember me' checkbox, a 'Remind password' link, and a 'Sign In' button. The main content area has a dark blue header with the text 'Community Of Guest Bloggers !'. Below this, there are two columns of benefits. The left column, titled 'Benefits for guest bloggers:', lists: 'Reach new audience', 'Build your brand', 'Network', 'Earn links to your site', and 'More!'. The right column, titled 'Benefits for blog owner:', lists: 'Get free exclusive content', 'Get free targeted traffic', 'Network', 'Get new fresh perspective', and 'More!'. Below the benefits, there is a section titled 'What's it all about?' featuring a video player with the title 'MyBlogGuest Arti...' and a 'More!' link. To the right of the video is a 'Find us on Bing!' section with the Bing logo and the MyBlogGuest logo. On the far right, there is a sign-up form with fields for 'Username', 'Password', 'Confirm password', 'E-mail', and 'Captcha'. Below the captcha field are social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, and LinkedIn. There is also a field for 'Where did you learn about us?'. At the bottom of the sign-up form are two checkboxes: 'Subscribe to 5-day free course' and 'I have read the Terms of service'. A large orange 'Sign Up For Free' button is at the bottom of the sign-up section. The footer of the website features the text 'MyBlogGuest proudly featured on >' followed by logos for SEOmoz, EverythingPR, ClickNewz, and MillerStamps.

You can find people that have a blog in a given niche market. You can tell them you will write an article for them that is 100% unique. They can use it and they can publish it on their website. In return, you get to put a link on your website to that blog post. This site is a great one to use for finding guest blogging opportunities.

Let me show you real quick how you can go to Google and also find other guest blogging opportunities. Search for guest blog and your niche in the search engine. For example Guest Blog Golf. Many of them are actually looking for guest writers and posts. You can content them and find out what their editorial policies are. These offer you a great opportunity to be where your niche market is hanging out.

You can also put in the phrase Guest Contributor and your niche. You can follow up with them by email. They may not have a form that you can fill out but you can contact them and tell them that you see on occasion they look for guest contributors. Let them know that you would like to write some unique content for them as well. You can also compliment them on their website when you approach them.
