This publication is not intended for use as a source of legal, business, accounting or financial advice. All readers are advised to seek services of competent professionals in legal, business, accounting, and finance fields.

In this lesson, I want to show you how to set up your web form. By this point, you should have set up some follow up messages so you know how that format works. The next thing you want to do is go to prospects at the top of your Listwire account. Then go to subscription forms and click on it. You can create a form that you can put onto your website.

It will tell you that you haven't created any web forms yet. It will have a box that says Click Here to Add a Web Form. Click it and it will take a few moments to load. Next, choose the form name. What is the purpose of your form? To get buyer's on your list? For this example, I am going to use golfswingbuyers1.

Add Subscription Form For Account: golfswingcourse@listwire.com

You are in the process of adding a new prospect subscription form to your List Wire account. Your subscription form will not be created until you complete all of the required options in the first, and second tabs, and click the "Save My Form" button when you're done. After creating your new subscription form, you will be taken back to the list of your current subscription forms, which you'll be able to get the code necessary to add the subscription form to your website, or blog. For form type, select from the drop down menu: In Line – Use when placing the form on the web page. For form redirect URL, that is the link that the subscriber will see. Plug in a website link that you have on your pages. I would suggest you create on a free site a place to send them. We will cover how to do this. Just send them a short little thank you message that they will get from you. A link to your free website goes here, and it can be any page or form that they will go to after they opt in.

The next step says Click Here to Edit the Text. Click it and it will take a few moments to load. Type in what you want to have appear above your opt in form. For example tell them: Enter your name and email to get free product updates. That is perfect after they have made a purchase so that they will opt in and always get the updated information.

The screenshot shows the ListWire website interface. At the top is a navigation bar with tabs: home, messages, prospects, settings, tracking, builders, and support. Below this is a secondary bar with links: search, add, unsubscribe, blacklist, recycle, export, subscription form (highlighted), and squeeze frame. The main content area is titled 'managing autoresponder list' with a dropdown menu showing 'golfswingcourse'. Below this, a heading reads 'Add Subscription Form For Account: golfswingcourse@listwire.com'. A paragraph explains the process of adding a new prospect subscription form. To the left is a sidebar with 'account management' links: manage autoresponders, account contact details, update password, billing history, testimonials, and log out of account. Below this is 'affiliate management' with links for promotion tools and affiliate statistics. The main form editor area has two tabs: 'Options' and 'Content' (selected). The 'Content' tab shows a form with two input fields labeled 'Name:' and 'Email:', a 'Submit' button, and two '[Click Here To Edit This Text]' placeholders. The label 'Form Editor:' is on the left of the form.

Form Code [Close]

To add this List Wire subscription form to your website, copy the javascript code below, and paste it anywhere into the body of your website.

<script type="text/javascript"
src="http://forms.listwire.com/0/155/155363/76971.js"></script>
```

The code below is the raw HTML for your In-Line subscription form. If you are comfortable working with HTML, or will be editing the look of this form, you can use the code below.

```
<center><table border="0" cellpadding="0" cellspacing="0" style="position: relative;
margin: 0px; padding: 0px;">
<tr><td align="center" valign="middle">
<form action="http://www.listwire.com/form/process.php" method="post">
